Suggested Time: 35 minutes

INSTRUCTIONS: Read both the following selections by Alexander Pope. For questions 24 to 30, choose the best answer.

Belinda's lock of hair has just been cut off. She and Clarissa react to the event.

The Rape of the Lock from Canto IV

“Forever cursed be this detested day,
Which snatched my best, my favorite curl away!
Happy! ah, ten times happy had I been,
150 If Hampton Court these eyes had never seen!
Yet am not I the first mistaken maid,
By love of courts to numerous ills betrayed.
Oh, had I rather unadmired remained
In some lone isle, or distant northern land;
155 Where the gilt chariot never marks the way,
Where none learn ombre, none e'er taste bohea<sup>1</sup>!
There kept my charms concealed from mortal eye,
Like roses that in deserts bloom and die.
What moved my mind with youthful lords to roam?
160 Oh, had I stayed, and said my prayers at home!
'Twas this the morning omens seemed to tell,
Thrice from my trembling hand the patch box<sup>2</sup> fell;
The tottering china shook without a wind,
Nay, Poll<sup>3</sup> sat mute, and Shock<sup>4</sup> was most unkind!
165 A Sylph too warned me of the threats of fate,
In mystic visions, now believed too late!
See the poor remnants of these slighted hairs!
My hands shall rend what e'en thy rapine<sup>5</sup> spares.
These in two sable ringlets taught to break,
170 Once gave new beauties to the snowy neck;
The sister lock now sits uncouth, alone,
And in its fellow's fate foresees its own;
Uncurled it hangs, the fatal shears demands,
And tempts once more thy sacrilegious hands.
175 Oh, hadst thou, cruel! been content to seize Hairs less in sight, or any hairs but these!”

<sup>2</sup> patch box: a box to hold the ornamental patches of court plaster worn on the face by both sexes

<sup>3</sup> Poll: a parrot

<sup>4</sup> Shock: a lapdog

<sup>5</sup> rapine: violent seizure of another's property

from Canto V

She said: the pitying audience melt in tears.
But Fate and Jove had stopped the Baron's ears.
In vain Thalestris<sup>6</sup> with reproach assails,
For who can move when fair Belinda fails?
5 Not half so fixed the Trojan<sup>7</sup> could remain,
While Anna begged and Dido raged in vain.
Then grave Clarissa graceful waved her fan;
Silence ensued, and thus the nymph began:
"Say why are beauties praised and honored most,
10 The wise man's passion, and the vain man's toast?
Why decked with all that land and sea afford,
Why angels called, and angel-like adored?
Why round our coaches crowd the white-gloved beaux,
Why bows the side box from its inmost rows?
15 How vain are all these glories, all our pains,
Unless good sense preserve what beauty gains;
That men may say when we the front box grace,
'Behold the first in virtue as in face!"
Oh! if to dance all night, and dress all day,
20 Charmed the smallpox, or chased old age away,
Who would not scorn what housewife's cares produce,
Or who would learn one earthly thing of use?
To patch, nay ogle, might become a saint,
Nor could it sure be such a sin to paint.
25 But since, alas! frail beauty must decay,
Curled or uncurled, since locks will turn to gray;
Since painted, or not painted, all shall fade,
And she who scorns a man must die a maid;
What then remains but well our power to use,
30 And keep good humor still whate'er we lose?
And trust me, dear, good humor can prevail
When airs, and flights, and screams, and scolding fail.
Beauties in vain their pretty eyes may roll;
Charms strike the sight, but merit wins the soul."

Alexander Pope

2. Hamlet (1600–1601)

King            Though yet of Hamlet our dear brother's death
The memory be green, and that it us befitted
To bear our hearts in grief, and our whole kingdom
To be contracted in one brow of woe,
Yet so far hath discretion fought with nature            5
That we with wisest sorrow think on him
Together with remembrance of ourselves.
Therefore our sometime sister,<sup>1</sup> now our Queen,
Th' imperial jointress<sup>2</sup> to this warlike state,
Have we, as 'twere, with a defeated joy,            10
With an auspicious<sup>3</sup> and a dropping eye,
With mirth in funeral, and with dirge in marriage,
In equal scale weighing delight and dole,
Taken to wife. Nor have we herein barred
Your better wisdoms, which have freely gone            15
With this affair along. For all, our thanks.
Now follows that you know young Fortinbras,
Holding a weak supposal of our worth,
Or thinking by our late dear brother's death
Our state to be disjoint and out of frame,<sup>4</sup>            20
Colleguèd with this dream of his advantage,<sup>5</sup>
He hath not failed to pester us with message,
Importing the surrender of those lands
Lost by his father, with all bands of law,
To our most valiant brother. So much for him.            25
Now for ourself and for this time of meeting.
Thus much the business is: we have here writ
To Norway, uncle of young Fortinbras—
Who, impotent and bedrid, scarcely hears
Of this his nephew's purpose—to suppress            30
His further gait<sup>6</sup> herein, in that the levies,
The lists, and full proportions<sup>7</sup> are all made
Out of his subject;<sup>8</sup> and we here dispatch
You, good Cornelius, and you, Voltemand,
For bearers of this greeting to old Norway,            35
Giving to you no further personal power
To business with the King, more than the scope
Of these delated articles<sup>9</sup> allow.
Farewell, and let your haste commend your duty.

3. The Tempest (1611)

Prospero: Ye elves of hills, brooks, standing lakes, and groves,
And ye that on the sands with printless foot
Do chase the ebbing Neptune, and do fly him<sup>1</sup> 35
When he comes back; you demi-puppets that
By moonshine do the green sour ringlets<sup>2</sup> make,
Whereof the ewe not bites; and you whose pastime
Is to make midnight mushrumps,<sup>3</sup> that rejoice
To hear the solemn curfew; by whose aid 40
(Weak masters<sup>4</sup> though ye be) I have bedimmed
The noontide sun, called forth the mutinous winds,
And 'twixt the green sea and the azured vault
Set roaring war; to the dread rattling thunder
Have I given fire and rifted Jove's stout oak 45
With his own bolt; the strong-based promontory
Have I made shake and by the spurs<sup>5</sup> plucked up
The pine and cedar; graves at my command
Have waked their sleepers, oped, and let 'em forth
By my so potent art. But this rough magic 50
I here abjure; and when I have required<sup>6</sup>
Some heavenly music (which even now I do)
To work mine end upon their senses that<sup>7</sup>
This airy charm is for, I'll break my staff,
Bury it certain fathoms in the earth, 55
And deeper than did ever plummet sound
I'll drown my book.

(V. i. 33–57)

[To Edgar] Come, sit thou here, most learned justice.<sup>3</sup>
[To the Fool] Thou, sapient<sup>4</sup> sir, sit here. Now, you she-foxes—
- Edgar: Look, where he<sup>5</sup> stands and glares. Want'st thou eyes at trial, madam?
Come o'er the bourn,<sup>6</sup> Bessy, to me. 25
- Fool: Her boat hath a leak,
And she must not speak
Why she dares not come over to thee.
- Edgar: The foul fiend haunts Poor Tom in the voice of a nightingale. Hoppedance<sup>7</sup> cries in Tom's belly 30 for two white herring.<sup>8</sup> Croak<sup>9</sup> not, black angel; I have no food for thee.
- Kent: How do you, sir? Stand you not so amazed.
Will you lie down and rest upon the cushions?
- Lear: I'll see their trial first. Bring in their evidence. 35
[To Edgar] Thou, robèd man of justice, take thy place.
[To the Fool] And thou, his yokefellow of equity,<sup>10</sup>
Bench by his side. [To Kent] You are o' th' commission;<sup>11</sup>
Sit you too.
- Edgar: Let us deal justly. 40
Sleepest or wakest thou, jolly shepherd?
Thy sheep be in the corn;
And for one blast of thy minikin mouth
Thy sheep shall take no harm.<sup>12</sup>
Purr, the cat is gray. 45
- Lear: Arraign her first. 'Tis Goneril, I here take my oath before this honorable assembly, she kicked the poor King her father.
- Fool: Come hither, mistress. Is your name Goneril?
- Lear: She cannot deny it. 50
- Fool: Cry you mercy, I took you for a joint stool.<sup>13</sup>
